Subject: Lombard Prosecutions Questions

Phil Archer
State Attorney
18th Judicial Circuit

Lynne Hooper
Adm. Assistant

Phil / Lynne:

VolusiaExposed has a few additional questions regarding the Lombards prosecutions.

Why were they (Lombards) only criminally charged with a misdemeanor - basically filing a false police report.

We hope you can understand how we (VolusiaExposed.Com) can perceive that the SAO is probably doing the BCSO a "solid" by NOT charging the Lombards with felony charges regarding their apparent bank fraud activities.

If Hallie Lombard becomes a convicted felon - her work activities within the BCSO COULD come under question - therefore any involvement she had with current and past criminal cases within the BCSO - and prosecuted by your office would also come under question.

We also find it VERY interesting how the Lombards are merely charged with a misdemeanor due to their false report to the BCSO - but Dana Delaney Loyd - Chief Editor of Brevards Best News has been charged with a 3rd degree felony for her alleged crime of making a false report to the abuse hotline.

We contemplate your appreciation of how we (VolusiaExposed) perceive that both prosecutions (Lombards / Loyd) appear to be politically motivated.

In our minds:

The Lombards are being protected - in order not to bring embarrassment to the BCSO and to prevent anyone from questioning any current and past arrests that have involvement by BCSO Investigation Tech Hallie DeVaughn Lombard.

Loyd is being prosecuted to silence a BCSO and SAO media critic.

In anticipation to Loyd's pending trial - we are currently preparing the below linked article for publication to the main pages of our web magazines.

The above article is a work and progress and should not be considered to be completed until it is posted to the main pages of our magazines.

VolusiaExposed.Com invites your office to provide us with any comments you feel may be appropriate for our readers to consider.
