We already received the report from Executive Investigations and will be reviewing to determine if the case warrants presentation to the Commission.

Thanks,
Stacy

Stacy:

Attached you will find a PDF copy of the FDLE Office of Executive Investigations review of allegations, that Police Chief Arcieri possibly violated criminal statutes attached to him obtaining his Associate degree from a local community college.

Although, it is noted that the Office of Executive Investigations closed their review, due to the local State Attorney's opinion that the matter would not be prosecuted, CJSTC has the authority to process these allegations, whether criminally prosecuted or not. However, VolusiaExposed.Com is currently unaware if the CJSTC might have a "practice" of not processing these types of allegations.

Please advise us (VolusiaExposed.Com) if this matter will be (or has been) processed by the CJSTC.

The FDLE EI report appears to identify the complainants, as per the requirements of your agency's "practices". We are fairly sure that CJSTC can obtain the complainants' addresses from the FDLE Office of Executive Investigations.
