Dear volusiaexposed.com:

The Public Defender has a conflict of interest that prevents representation of Dana Loyd because the State of Florida listed as a State witness against Ms. Loyd an employee of the Public Defender, Dale Young (please see page 3 of attached State's Response to Demand for Discovery).

Blaise Trettis

Public Defender, 18th Judicial Circuit for Brevard and Seminole Counties

Dear Mr. Trettis:

Our publication (VolusiaExposed.Com) has been covering the Dana Loyd prosecution since her August 2015 arrest.

We have published over twenty articles on this matter of public interest. Below is a link to our most recent article.

Yesterday, February 12, 2018 - Loyd had a VOP hearing in front of Judge Robin Lemonidis. During this hearing - your office (Public defender) apparently declared a conflict of interest regarding being unable to represent Loyd.

Per our understanding of video taken during this hearing - the judge, together with representatives from your office and the State Attorney's office had a private "white noise" meeting at the bench (side bar). We imagine this "conflict of interest" your office has with being unable to represent Loyd was discussed in detail within this secretive meeting.

We (VolusiaExposed.Com) intend to publish yet another article regarding the Loyd matter - which will focus on yesterday's hearing. Many of our readers have inquisitive minds - therefore they will need to know what caused your office to declare a conflict. Particular details please.

Please respond to us at the below listed email address.
