I understand your point of view. Technically, not a 911 call and therefore no requirement to redact. But I didn't send it to you for publication. Just wanted you to hear it so that you had the full picture. I believe the biggest issue for you is the charging decision, which I won't comment on since the case is still being litigated. Just wanted you to hear the seriousness of what was reported to us by the caller, since I don't think you had heard that before and I thought it would shed light on why the responding deputies were so forceful and insistent and perhaps pushed the envelope a bit. After all, we were being told that lives were being threatened -- a fact that I don't think you were previously aware of. Just trying to make the point that even if you disagree with the actions of our deputies, there was a reason why they were acting that way, which is explained by the call recording.
